Dear Families,

This week, I am focusing on what it means to be knowledgeable in an IB school. Being knowledgeable is about exploring ideas, issues, and concepts that are significant across a variety of disciplines. It helps our students build a deep understanding of the world around them. To support this at home, here are three fun activities you can try with your children:

1. Choose a news article and discuss its main ideas, encouraging them to ask questions about global issues.
2. Plan a family outing to a museum or cultural site, sparking conversations about history, art, and culture.
3. Read a book together on a topic they're interested in and explore the subject further by researching online or watching a related documentary.

We'd also love to invite you to a special meeting on Tuesday morning, where we'll explain the reasons behind our changes to the morning drop-off arrangement. You'll have the opportunity to observe the new process in action with me, followed by a Q&A session where we'll address any questions or concerns you might have.

As an IB continuum school, we are delighted to share that today marked the official opening of Grade 11! It's a significant milestone for us, and we're excited to continue growing and supporting students on their IB journey from Primary Years through to the Diploma Programme.

Lastly, a huge thank you to all of our wonderful teachers. We are so proud of the fantastic job they're doing in fostering a positive and engaging learning environment. As International Teachers' Day is this Saturday, we wish our entire teaching community –both here at school and beyond—a very happy day of appreciation.

Drop-and-Go Feedback Meeting: Tuesday 8th October

We are pleased to share that the introduction of the morning drop-and-go zones and parking areas at Gate 1 and Gate 7 has gone smoothly, with the large majority of parents expressing satisfaction with the new system.

As with any good organization, we believe in building review points after implementing changes to ensure ongoing improvement. With that in mind, we invite you to join us for a discussion to review the current system, address any concerns, and explore ideas for further refinement. After a short overview, we will head outside for approximately 35 minutes to observe the zones in action, followed by an open Q&A session where your suggestions will be most welcome. Your feedback is key to making the morning experience even smoother for everyone.

- 7-7:10 am Presentation to parents
- 7:15-7:50 am Parents to observe morning drop off
- 7:55-8:30 am Parent discussion

Morning Drop and Go

Applying to Competitive Universities 9th October (G6-11)

G6-11 parents are invited to a special workshop on "Applying to Competitive Universities in Europe, UK, and North America". Please note, this is only the listed regions.

This session will help parents to understand the logistics and profiles of students who are admitted to competitive universities and how they can support their students at home.

This workshop is not for application instructions or timelines.

Parents from all grades are welcome but only G9-11 students can attend.

Sign up is mandatory through this link here.

- Location: Black box

Two identical sessions are available to accommodate parents:

- 8am-10am
- 6pm-8pm

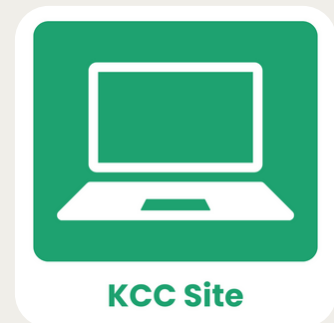

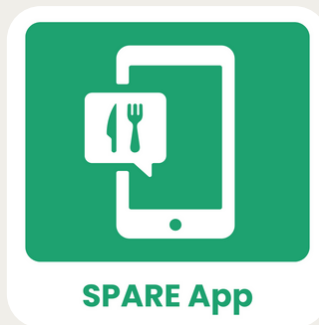

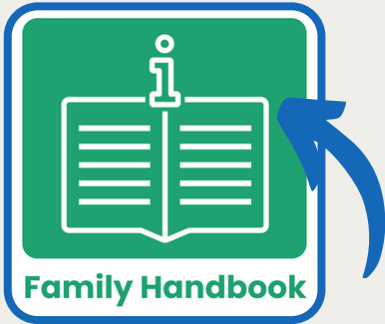

DP Events for Parents

- 7th October - The Core in DP (Extended Essay, Theory of Knowledge and CAS) - Webinar from 8-9am
- 24th October - Assessments in DP, In The Oasis from 8-9 am
