Dear Parents,

I hope you are enjoying these wonderful cooler weeks.

I had the pleasure of spending last weekend in London, meeting with a group of outstanding educators during our recruitment efforts for new teachers. The experience was truly inspiring, as it showcased the incredible talent within the international teaching community. The passion, expertise, and creativity of the candidates were remarkable, and it was a great reminder of the strength and innovation that diversity brings to education.

While I was away, I'd like to extend a heartfelt thank-you to Anna, Anne, and Monica, our amazing Heads of School, and the KCC team for ensuring everything ran smoothly. Their dedication continues to be at the heart of our school's success, and I'm incredibly grateful for their support in keeping things running seamlessly.

As a growing school, we are fortunate to add talented educators to our team each year. These new team members bring fresh ideas, innovative approaches, and perspectives from around the world. This aligns beautifully with our school's commitment to the IB curriculum, which encourages global best practices in education.

Developing Local and Global Contexts

key strength of the IB is its emphasis on connecting local and global contexts, with languages playing an essential role. In a diverse and international setting like the UAE, the ability to speak multiple languages not only facilitates communication but also deepens understanding of culture, identity, and diverse perspectives. Research shows that learning languages strengthens critical thinking, enhances empathy, and improves problem-solving skills—abilities essential for success in today's interconnected world. At our school, students experience this richness daily, building a strong connection to the UAE's heritage through Arabic, Social Studies, and Islamic Education while broadening their perspectives by learning second and third languages.

These diverse linguistic and cultural experiences help students navigate global challenges with empathy and understanding. Miscommunications may arise in such a rich environment, but they are opportunities for growth. Checking for clarity and intent fosters thoughtful communication and mutual respect, preparing students to thrive in diverse environments. Parents play a vital role in this journey by exploring culture together, discussing global news, and encouraging language practice at home. These actions align with the IB mission to develop knowledgeable, caring young people who contribute to a better, more peaceful world through intercultural understanding.

Finally, I encourage you to follow us on Instagram, Facebook, and LinkedIn for a closer look at the many ways we bring these values to life at school. From classroom activities to special events, we love sharing stories that inspire!

Thank you for your continued support as we work together to prepare our students for a bright future.

Best wishes,

Abi
